

Finding Your Developmental Edge: Achieving Excellence

Dates November 8-10, 2018
Begins Thursday, 10am
Ends Saturday, 4pm

Fee $1,395
GISC Members: $1,345

CE hours 22 - ICF

Faculty Michael Shipman, MSc, MHCS, and Marianne Roy

Using GISC's signature strengths-based approach, this workshop offers an intensive and focused opportunity for participants to explore core competencies and surface their developmental edge. Participants will leave the workshop with an effective learning agenda that leverages core competencies to expand and broaden development, choice, and impact.

A unique and structured method will be used to explore how some aspects of your core competencies can be obstacles to success when overused. The result will be a clear sense of the connection between who you are and what you do.

You will use this newfound understanding to construct a learning plan that will feel intrinsically satisfying and will fit your learning style as well as the realities of your life and work. You will leave with a plan of action that provides detailed guidance on what new things to try each day.

This is a highly interactive and dynamic workshop, where the old adage is true—the more you give, the more you get.

"I was looking for CE credits and wanted to take something different, not just another webinar. This program gave me a new way of thinking about my strengths rather than focusing on weaknesses and took me to an edge that I never would've chosen myself. It really works. I have often taken courses that are deep, yet none that were delivered with such grace, gentleness and safety. The experience was life changing."
